PEARSON BRINGS SUIT

Dentist Asks $2,500 Damages from N.N.&O.P.R.&E. Co.

WAS EJECTED FROM CAR

Purchased Book of Tickets and Conductor Declined to Permit Him Ride—Mrs. Timberlake Sues for Divorce.

Dr. William H. Pearson yesterday instituted suit in the Circuit Court against the Newport News & Old Point Railway & Electric Company, asking for $2,500 damages for being put off of one of the company's cars while going from his office to his residence in Mallory avenue. Burdette A. Lewis is the attorney for Dr. Pearson.

Ejected from Car.
Several weeks ago Dr. Pearson purchased a book of tickets, which the company had on sale over the King street line, and when the company changed the east Hampton route through from Queen street to Mallory avenue over Locust street, it is claimed that the car conductor refused to accept one of the tickets and ejected Dr. Pearson from the car, after the dentist had declined to pay a five cent fare. The tickets purchased by Dr. Pearson were later discontinued and now the dentist sues for the humiliation he suffered by being ejected from a car on a ticket which he had purchased.

Sues for Divorce.
Because she is not yet of age, although she is married, Mrs. Emma Annie Timberlake, yesterday through her next friend, Oswald Keller, instituted suit for divorce against her husband, William Clarke Timberlake. Mrs. Timberlake accuses her husband of non-support and cruel and brutal treatment. She was married in Phoebus only about a year ago and is now 18 years old.

B. H. Smith yesterday instituted a chancery suit for the division of land against Laura Smith, et als.

FIREMEN WILL VISIT PHOEBUS TOWN TODAY

Vigilance Fire Engine Company, of York, Pa., to Be Guests This Afternoon.

Headed by a good band and bringing 115 members, the Vigilance Fire Engine Co. of York, Pa., will reach Old Point at noon today to be the guest this afternoon of the Phoebus firemen. The visiting laddies will be met at Old Point by the entire membership of the Phoebus department and will be brought to the Phoebus engine house on a special train of trolley cars. After partaking of a barbecue the visitors will be taken on a sight-seeing trip to the National Soldiers' Home, Normal School and Hampton. Later in the afternoon they will return to the Phoebus engine house and will be formally welcomed to the town, after which a big banquet will be given them. The Pennsylvanians will leave tonight for York.

Body Sent to New Jersey.
Following funeral services in the chapel at Fort Monroe yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the body of Private James A. Lightbody, who died Wednesday morning in the post hospital, was shipped to Weehawkins, N. J., for burial. Chaplain Scott conducted the services.

WOULD COMPEL UNITED STATES ANNEX PANAMA

Charge D'Affairs of American Legation Makes Sensational Statement.

(By Associated Press)
PANAMA, Sept. 8.—In an interview today Richard O. Marsh, charge d'affaires of the American legation, at Panama, intimated that if the Panama government ignores the wishes of Washington, the United States would be compelled to occupy or annex the republic of Panama.

Mr. Marsh's statement was made as a consequence of the evident intention of the liberal party which has a majority in the assembly, to elect as the next vice-president to fill the unexpired term of the late President Obaldin, an independent citizen. Yesterday the assembly was occupied with a very heated discussion of the matter. Public opinion appears to disapprove the attitude of the legislative body.

Mr. Marsh made this statement: "If, in view of all that the American government has done for Panama and its great interests, present and future, on the isthmus, the Panama assembly and government should persistently refuse to accede to the clear wishes of the American government, that government can only adopt such means to prevent such opposition in the future as occupation and annexation."

The foregoing is published in today's papers and has stirred up something of a sensation.

"HARVEST DAY" FOR BAPTIST ORPHANAGE

Congregation of Memorial Baptist Church Arranging to Have Big First Sunday in October.

The congregation of the Memorial Baptist church has decided to hold a big "harvest day" on Sunday, October 2, when it is planned to raise a neat sum of money for the Virginia Baptist's Orphanage at Salem. The orphanage is doing a good work and the Memorial church is anxious to assist the institution. The "harvest day" committee have been named by the church as follows:

Sunday school and church—James Gammell, Taylor Frazier, John Frost, M. F. Higgins and Joseph Moore.
Men's Bible class—W. H. Shackelford, G. T. Cosby, James Mitchell, W. S. Crockett, J. J. Johnson and H. D. Godwin.

Executive—Elijah Todd, Jesse Hogge, W. G. Watkins, Fay Collier and Gus Nettles.

Cases Continued.
After hearing a portion of the evidence Justice Martin Kenney last night continued the cases of Rosa Macklin and Christopher Ham, charged with selling liquor at Bay Shore, until this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Negro Boy Is Whipped.
David Marlin, the negro boy arrested for stealing a small bank from "Buddie" West, got a sound thrashing last night and his father paid the money back to Mr. West. Magistrate Smith, who heard the case, said the boy was too young to be sent to jail.

Death of Infant.
Hugh Carl Foster, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Foster, died in their home near Phoebus yesterday morning. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

MRS. CAREY TELLS HER STORY TO THE JURY

Williamsburg Man Faces Court on Charge of Attempted Criminal Assault.

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., Sept. 8.—The trial of John Clowes, charged with attempted criminal assault upon Mrs. Charles Carey on the night of August 13, was resumed in the Circuit Court here today.

At yesterday's hearing Mrs. Carey was the first witness. She testified that Clowes was the man who attacked her, and that before doing so he had made an improper proposal to her in the vestibule of the Idaho Theatre. Becoming frightened at his words, she started back to where her husband was. Clowes followed her diagonally across the street, and the alleged assault followed.

The man, she said, held her by her left arm and put the other about her body, dragging and lifting her towards a fence. She struggled to free herself, when some one approached, and the man turned her loose. She then told her husband. She was a very reluctant witness under the rigid cross-examination of the defendant's attorneys. The other witnesses yesterday were C. E. Carey and C. T. Morris, who board with the Careys. They corroborated Mrs. Carey's statements as to her condition after the alleged assault.

Merritt Foster, a youth, who is one of the most important witnesses, testified today to seeing the alleged attack on the woman, and said he saw her struggling to free herself from the man's grasp. He was a strong witness for the prosecution and the cross-examination did not shake his evidence. The hearing is still being conducted behind closed doors, much to the disappointment of the crowds about the building.

The trial will continue throughout tomorrow.

T. R. BARS LORIMER FROM BIG BANQUET

expression of distaste for his presence, no sign of such disquiet appeared.

With the usual untroubled brow and his customary suavity of expression, he courteously declined to comment to newspaper men on what, to many seemed a most extraordinary incident.

The news of Colonel Roosevelt's demand of the Hamilton Club delegation that they inform Senator Lorimer of his ultimatum was given to Senator Lorimer when he reached his office, by the press committee in the La-Salle Street Bank. He had just arrived from his summer home in Hyattsville, Md.

A hurried resume of the dispatches from Freeport was given him by newspaper men and a statement was asked from him.

Committee Returns.
"Is that so?" said Senator Lorimer. "This is the first I have heard of it. No, no, I have nothing whatever to say. Nothing at all."

He turned from the group, conversed with his secretary and then entered his private office.

When the delegation of Hamilton Club members arrived at Wells street depot they were informed that Senator Lorimer would not attend the banquet.

The committee's intelligence did not come officially, but was accepted as final.

The delegation breathed a sigh of relief and the incident for them was closed.

Receives Tumultuous Greeting.
Theodore Roosevelt arrived in Chicago from Freeport, Ill., at 5:20 o'clock this evening.

He was given a tumultuous greeting at the Wells street station. Escorted by details of motorcycle and mounted police, he was driven to the Congress Hotel where another great throng awaited him.

At the hotel he was the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet given by the members of the Hamilton Club of Chicago, tonight. He was greeted by an assemblage of eleven hundred diners, among whom were several United States senators, governors of states and other notables. Hundreds of people who had been unable to obtain seats at the banquet, thronged the corridors of the hotel and the balcony of the gold room, in which Colonel Roosevelt spoke, waiting for a chance to hear or see the former President.

Eulogizes the Colonel.
Governor Charles S. Deneen delivered an eulogistic address in welcoming Colonel Roosevelt to Illinois and Chicago.

John H. Patton, president of the Hamilton Club, introduced the club's chief guest to the expectant diners. Following the banquet Colonel Roosevelt was escorted to a reception in the Elizabethan room of the Congress, which had been transformed into a representation of an African jungle. Colonel Roosevelt was pleased with the decorative innovation.

Long Line of Guests.
Hundreds, who had been unable to secure seats at the banquet board were admitted to the long line of guests at the reception, which did not terminate until shortly before the Roosevelt party was ready to take the train for Cincinnati.

Probably owing in a measure to the interest aroused by the sensation at Lorimer incident, the throngs of curious people in and about the hotel increased after the banquet had opened until the police experienced considerable difficulty in handling the crowds.

SISTER'S TRIP.

Sister's home from her trip. And she's getting her breath. She's unpacking her grip. Talking us all to death—What she did, what she saw, What she heard, what she said—She is working her jaw—How she slept, how she fed, How she danced, how she sang And was encircled again. Thus she ends her harangue: "I met four dandy men."

Sister's home from her trip. Father, mother and I Haven't opened a lip. For a day or an eve. It was fine! It was great! All the meals were immense, And she tipped us the ate. What cared she for expense? Everybody was kind, but, oh, then That brings back to mind, She met four dandy men.

Sister's home from her trip. All the neighbors have heard What she saw on the ship. And all things that occurred, And I fear many days. Will have come and have passed Ere her paces of praise. Shall be silenced at last. Sister's home from her trip, Let me tell you again, And while on the ship. She met four dandy men.

Hastened His Death.
The little village of Grabels, near Montpellier, France, has 500 inhabitants and an extraordinary record. Among the 500 are two centenarians—there were three until Dr. David died at the age of 103 recently—and twelve persons in the town are more than eighty years old. The death of Dr. David came as a shock to the villagers. One of the other centenarians, a woman of 101, explained how he died. "He insisted on walking through the pouring rain to the next village instead of riding on his bicycle, as he usually did when he visited patients at night," she said.

Why the Sky Is Blue.
The cause of the blue tint of the sky has recently been the subject of renewed discussion. According to one view, the blue color is the effect of chemical matter in the air acting by absorption, but most physicists deny this on the ground that these chemical substances present in the air would cause the setting sun to be blue instead of red. It seems probable that the blue of the sky is, in any case, not due to particles of dust or of water, as has long been supposed, but to reality to the dispersal of light by the actual molecules of the air itself.
